Three restaurants on South Main Street have closed their doors to the public in the last few weeks.

Hailey's Li'l Cafe, Country Kitchen and Golden Corral have all locked up.

"We hate to see businesses close, but unfortunately I think it's a sign of the times," Weatherford Economic Development Authority Executive Director Dennis Clayton said. "While we're at the end of our economic downturn, it's going to take a long time to recover, too."

Clayton said he has had no direct contact with
